DAMASCUS FARMER FATALLY HURT IN FALL

YOUTH ADMITS HITTING WOMAN, STARTING FIRE

Ray Jutila, 20, Questioned In Slaying of Mrs. Marie Tobin

SAYS HE STRUCK 'IN FIT OF ANGER'

Admits Making Advances, Became Angry When Repulsed

WARREN, O., May 24. — Police Chief B. J. Gillen announced today that Ray Jutila, 20, signed a confession in the presence of Police Capt. George Salen, admitting that he knocked Mrs. Marie T. Tobin, 22, unconscious Wednesday evening in her bedroom and then set fire to her bed.

Chief Gillen Jutila quoted as saying he struck Mrs. Tobin "in a fit of anger."

Jutila said he went to the Tobin home early in the evening while James F. Tobin, the slain woman's husband, was at work, Chief Gillen said.

The youth admitted that he had made advances to Mrs. Tobin and became angry when she repulsed him, Chief Gillen said.

Jutila made his statement in the presence of Capt. Salen, Patrolmen William Johnson and Edward Conway and Assistant County Prosecutor Paul Hodge.

Jutila, Chief Gillen said, is married. He said he had no occupation and was unemployed at the time. He was known as a friend of both Mr. and Mrs. Tobin and, according to Chief Gillen, had visited the Tobin home on other occasions.

A pet dog and Mrs. Tobin were stabbed with an ice pick. Firemen found the dog's body beside that of Mrs. Tobin on her flaming bed, Wednesday night.

Samples of the dog's blood were sent to the Western Reserve university medical laboratory in Cleveland for comparison with stains on a pair of trousers seized by police yesterday.

Coroner J. C. Henshaw ordered the laboratory tests on the possibility the stains were caused by the dog's blood.

Mrs. Tobin's body was unclothed, but wrapped in a towel, when found by firemen. She had been stabbed behind the ear and her jaw was broken, Coroner Henshaw said.

The Tobins were married four years ago.

The confession said Jutila first struck Mrs. Tobin with his fist and then with a cigar stand. Then, fearing her pet dog might expose his guilt by growling at him, Jutila killed the animal by beating its head on the floor.

Jutila, the confession continued, then placed the dog beside Mrs. Tobin, covered both with newspapers and set the papers afire.

Seeing the flames well started, he fled through a rear door and went to the home of his father-in-law where he was arrested several hours later.

Funeral services for Mrs. Tobin were held today in St. Mary's church.

Republican Women Rally In Columbus

COLUMBUS, May 24—Under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Kendy Brown, Dayton, national committee-woman, and Mrs. Mary L. Arrest, Cleveland, state vice-chairman, a state-wide rally of Ohio Republican women will be held here next Tuesday.

Hold Youth in "Fire" Murder

Mrs. Marie T. Tobin — Tobin home.

Police held a 20-year-old youth as suspect in connection with the "fire" murder of Mrs. Marie T. Tobin, 22, left, whose nude body was found dead in her burning bed in the Tobins home at Warren, O., shown at right. She had been stabbed and beaten by her attacker who apparently started the fire to conceal his deed. James F. Tobin, husband of the victim, told police he was at work when the crime was committed.

POLICE LAUNCH TRAFFIC DRIVE

Double, Overtime Parking to Be Eliminated By Authorities

Salem police today started a campaign to clear the streets in the business section of trucks and passenger cars that have been violating traffic regulations.

This drive is aimed particularly at double parking and overtime parking. Police officers do not intend to become "hard-boiled" in these activities but they do insist that violations must cease.

Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer and Safety Director George Baillie have warned truck drivers against double parking and mercants who have been parking their cars on the main street most of the day have been asked to cooperate so that further action on the part of officials will not be necessary.

This drive is in in the interst of safety as well as providing places to park for those who want to stop long enough to shop in the stores. Chief Stoffer called attention to the fact that double parking is dangerous, one recent accident having been caused by this practice.

Truck drivers have been told that they must pull over to the curb when making deliveries. If this is not done they will be compelled to make all deliveries in the rear.

Commissioners May Decide Road Work

LISBON, May 24—County commissioners at a meeting Monday are expected to approve the improvement of the old stage coach road extending west from the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line to Clarkson, where a connection will be made with a concrete road built between Clarkson and State Route 7. This road is approximately seven miles in length.

Commissioners also will approve a resolution asking the state highway department cooperating with the works division of the FERA to approve the program for the improvement of 70 miles of dirt roads in Columbiana county, now designated as rural mail and school bus routes. Numerous petitions have been filed with the commissioners favoring the improvements.

Kiss Slayer Will Face Sanity Test

TROY, O., May 24—Under observation at the Lima State hospital for the insane since pleading guilty to the "kiss-slaying" of his sweetheart, Rollin Cain, 27, Tippecanoe City, will face a sanity hearing here Monday. The outcome of the hearing will determine whether Cain will be committed to the hospital indefinitely or will be sent to Ohio penitentiary for a life term, his attorney, S. H. Goodrich, said.

Princess Ingrid Frederick's Bride At Royal Wedding

STOCKHOLM, May 24.—In the Thirteenth Century church where all kings of the Bernadotte lineage in Sweden have been crowned, Princess Ingrid became the wife today of Crown Prince Frederik of Denmark and Iceland. By the same token she became a future queen.

It was a royal wedding, born of tradition, and executed with pomp and splendor but it had an aura of romance amid the glitter of polished swords and burnished boots and the formality of court ritual.

"I, Ingrid, take you, Frederik, my lawful husband, to love you through sorrow and pleasure, and as a symbol I accept from you this ring".

With these words and the recital of the other vows of the Swedish marriage service, two people in love were wed—a blue-eyed young woman and and a tall, dark-haired studious, young man.

The wedding service was conducted in the Stockholm pro-cathedral, known as Storkyrkan, with its restored Gothic architecture and 18th century furnishings.

Guests began arriving early—a colorful parade of nobility, high military and naval officers in full parade dress, government leaders and foreign diplomatic representatives in Stockholm.

Greenford Class Awarded Diplomas

GREENFORD, May 24.—Rev. Joseph H. Lloyd, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church was the speaker here Thursday night at commencement exercises for 26 Greenford High school seniors. He spoke on "The Real Rich Man."

Diplomas were presented by S. H. Dougherty, president of the board of education. Arlene Calvin was class salutatorian, speaking on "Nation Builders". The valedictory address was made by Esther Herdle on "The Challenge of Modern Science".

A short musical program was offered by school students. Green township school picnic will be held today. Next Tuesday the juniors will sponsor a trip to Cleveland for the seniors. School activities will be concluded on Wednesday night when the alumni holds its annual meeting.

A capacity audience attended the baccalaureate service of the school last Sunday in the Christian church when Rev. Punk gave the sermon. Flowers decorated the church, along with class colors of crimson and silver.

Church At Winona Will Be Dedicated

Having completed refinishing and other repairs in the Friends church at Winona, the congregation will hold a dedication service at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Rev. Herbert Handy, pastor of the Friends church of Alliance, will preach. Mr. Handy is also superintendent of the Damascus Quarterly Meeting of Friends.

There will be a service at 7:45 p. m., and each evening during next week. Lydia Brantingham will deliver the messages. The public is invited to attend the services.

AKRON ROBBERY SUSPECT NABBED NEAR GUILFORD

Sheriff's Forces, Lisbon Police Assist In Tear Gas Attack

TAKE FUGITIVE BACK TO AKRON

Second Suspect In Case Being Hunted Today By Police

Hidden in the attic of a farmhouse near Guilford, and suffering from a bullet wound and brier scratches, Malcolm R. Hensley, 27, of near Guilford, was nabbed last night after an extensive manhunt which extended from Akron to Columbiana county.

Summit county deputy sheriffs came here on the trail of Hensley, wanted on a highway robbery charge, and with the aid of Sheriff Frank Ballantine and Lisbon police, routed Hensley from the farmhouse with a blast of tear gas furnished by the Columbiana county sheriff.

Authorities came to this county for Hensley, acting on a boy's tip, after he and a companion had abandoned their bullet-riddled automobile near Akron, following a chase and gun-fight with Summit county deputies.

Taken To Akron

The suspect today was in the county jail at Akron where police say he had been arrested twice before, once for stealing chickens and once in connection with a murder investigation.

Hensley's story, related to Chief Deputy Sheriff A. S. Helpbringer, was one of staggering seven miles from Stony Hill, near Akron, to West Richfield, seven miles north on Route 176. Blood dripped from a bullet wound in his skull. Briars tore at his clothing. Swamp water soaked his shoes and chilled his body.

An hour after the posse of Akron police and detectives, Summit deputies, state highway patrolmen and armed farmers abandoned their search at 7 a. m., convinced that the robber pair had escaped after looting two Akron gasoline stations, Hensley staggered into West Richfield, he related.

Hires Boy to Drive

There he hired a boy to drive him to his home six miles south of Salem. They left at 8 a. m., and a second boy went along.

From this second boy Helpbringer received the tip which sent the squad to the farm. Hensley had left the car some distance from the house and the deputies searched three places without success.

At the fourth the shades were drawn but someone moved inside. stairs bed room as the deputies

Two Persons Dead In Crossing Crash

DAYTON, O., May 24—Harry Brannum, 87, and an unidentified woman were killed early today when a west-bound Pennsylvania passenger train struck their automobile at a crossing here.

Police said they were unable to identify the woman because two boys snatched her purse from her body and fled before anyone could reach the scene.

Harry Strassburg, night watchman for a nearby factory, said both the train and automobile were moving slowly but that Brannum, who was driving, apparently saw the train but was unable to stop.

The automobile was ground under the locomotive wheels and the train was stopped immediately.

McMaster Speaks At Fairfield Exercises

Dr. W. H. McMaster, president of Mount Union college, speaking on "Leadership", addressed the 23 graduates of Fairfield Centralized school at commencement exercises Thursday night. Dr. McMaster, only Wednesday returned from a trip to Europe.

Diplomas were presented the seniors by A. E. Wisler, president of the board of education. Today was to be the last day of school for the Fairfield district.

The eighth grade graduation will take place tonight in the high school. A class of 37 will graduate. The American Legion will make awards to the outstanding boy and girl pupil.

Six Naval Flyers Die in Pacific Plane Crash

Six navy flyers crashed to their death when their giant bomber plunged into the Pacific ocean near Midway island during a phase of the elaborate fleet maneuvers in which the entire United States fleet force has been engaged. The tragedy occurred when one of the naval armada ships had gone to the rescue of a crippled sister ship. Destroyers raced to the scene of the crash where only a patch of oil on the rough sea betrayed the spot where the six went down. Map shows scene of the crash. Upper right is a photo of Midway island lighthouse. Upper left is a naval bomber similar to the one which crashed. Cause of the accident was unknown.

DALTON BOONE DIES IN LORAIN

School Head for 21 Years Was Native Of Winona

Dalton, J. Boone, native of Winona, superintendent of Lorain schools for the last 21 years, died late yesterday afternoon at Cleveland Clinic hospital, where he underwent an operation May 6.

Mr. Boone, who was 68, had been connected with Lorain schools in supervisory capacities for 35 years. In 1900 he became principal of Garden Avenue School, where he stayed until 1905. He was appointed principal of the senior high school in that year and remained there until his appointment as superintendent of schools in 1914.

At the age of 18 Mr. Boone taught school in Winona. Later, after entering Mount Union College, he was elected principal of an elementary school while a second-year student at Mount Union. He returned to college after two years and was graduated in 1898 with a bachelor of science degree.

He was elected president of the Northeastern Ohio Teachers' association in 1915. In 1930 he became president of the state association.

Mr. Boone was a member of the First M. E. church of Lorain, the Kiwanis club, the Knights of Pythias and the Masons.

He is survived by his wife, Isabel, a daughter, Dorothy, a brother, W. H. Boone, and a sister, Eva Gray, of Winona.

Mr., Mrs. McMaster Feted By Students On Arriving Home

ALLIANCE, May 24—Three hundred students and the college band gave Dr. W. H. McMaster, president of Mt. Union college, and Mrs. McMaster a surprise welcome late Wednesday afternoon upon their return home from a trip abroad.

The student body greeted Dr. and Mrs. McMaster and their daughter, Janet who met them in New York City, at the city limits on E. State st. A parade, headed by the college band, led to Mt. Union square and then to the McMaster home where the president and his wife were greeted by the college faculty.

College Cast Gives Shakespeare Play

Students of the Salem High school witnessed the presentation of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" Thursday afternoon in the high school auditorium, by Mount Union college players.

Two Salem High graduates, Miss Rachel Cope and Dale Wilson, were members of the cast. Wilson having one of the leading roles.

This afternoon the annual Brooks literary contest will be held in the auditorium, an event sponsored by the late Att'y Charles T. Brooks and made an annual affair. Judges for the contest will be C. F. Scouton, Lisbon, W. G. Long, Damascus and Rev. W. L. Fritz, Columbiana. Twenty high school students compete each year for honors in poems, essays, short stories and orations, prizes being awarded to the first three in each division. Winners will be announced in a special assembly Monday morning.

RED CROSS AIDED IN FUND DRIVE

Accomplishments, Needs Of Chapter Cited By Secretary

The Salem chapter of the American Red Cross is one of the worthy organizations participating in the annual Community Chest drive here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

A large part of the funds used by the chapter in its welfare work comes from the Chest.

In commenting on the work of the organization in the past and its aims for the future, Mrs. Myra B. Woodruff, executive secretary, says:

"The program for the coming year of the Salem Red Cross is partly planned. It will be a more extensive program in health, home hygiene, care of the sick, and safety education, not forgetting the most important work of the Red Cross—the claims of the ex-service men, as well as the nursing service and the work for the worthy civilian needing advice and assistance.

"In the past year there were over 1,200 families touched by the Salem Red Cross.

"The Red Cross nursing service has cared for 330 cases, making 2,129 visits. These visits include bedside nursing, interviews in behalf of health problems, pre-natal and maternity visits. The nurse has carried on classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. Do you know how to make the ill one in your family more comfortable? If not, make arrangements to join one of the Red Cross classes in home hygiene and care of the sick. Twenty-one just completed written examinations over this course. Examinations are not compulsory. New classes will be conducted during the year.

"Thirty-five children, at the cost of $600, received tonsil operations. Not one of these could have been cared for in any other way. These operations save many hours of suffering from ailments in later life which are the result of bad tonsils —perhaps tuberculosis, heart trouble or deafness. Was it worth while to spend this money? This coming year we hope to be well enough financed to give some medical assistance other than tonsillectomies.

"Our loan chest needs replenishing. Eighty-eight families borrowed 332 articles from the chest in the past year. This chest contains every article needed in the sick room and is free to any one. The only re-

HORSES BOLT ON HIGHWAY

Jump As Auto Tire Blows, R. E. Fouts, 51, Victim

Roy E. Fouts, 51, a farmer residing on the Damascus rd, four miles west of Salem, was killed instantly at 6 p. m. Thursday when thrown to the highway from a farm machine when the two horses bolted as a tire blew out on a passing automobile.

Fouts was near his home when the accident happened, state highway patrolmen said.

When the right front tire of an automobile driven by J. C. Coffee, 43, of R. D. 4, Canton, blew out, the horses became frightened and dashed to the left. Fouts, who was standing up on the machine, was dashed to the ground. The horses came to a stop against a telephone pole.

A passing motorist, A. H. Roosma, of Canfield, took Fouts to Salem City hospital where physicians pronounced him dead.

Mr. Fouts was born south of Salem on the New Garden rd. He was a member of the Salem Presbyterian church.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Fouts, he leaves his mother, Mrs. Mary Fouts, at home.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the home in charge of Rev. R. D. Walter of the Salem Presbyterian church, with burial in Grandview cemetery. Friends may call at the home any time Saturday afternoon or evening.

Alice Williams, 21, Beloit, Injured In Alliance Accident

A Beloit girl and four persons from Amsterdam were in Alliance City hospital today as the result of a collision of two automobiles on the Mount Union square, Alliance, at 1:30 a. m. today. A fifth occupant was uninjured.

James Wagner, of Amsterdam, was reported in a serious condition with a skull fracture and Henry C. Wagner, 22, a brother, was suffering from a possible spine fracture and lacerations on the chin.

The Beloit girl, Alice Williams, 21, was suffering from a possible fracture of the right shoulder and injuries to the back of her head. Fred Merrin, 16, and Charles Hoffman, 16, received less serious injuries to their heads and hands. Annis Sanitra, 21, also of Amsterdam, escaped injury.

Police reported the mishap took place when automobiles driven by Miss Williams, who was riding alone, and Henry Wagner, collided at the square in Mount Union where routes 62 and 80 meet.

Company Buys Out Exchange for $350

TRENTON, N. J., May 24.—The $211,568,440 New Jersey Bell Telephone company has bought out a competitor.

The Richland Mutual Rural Telephone company has an "exchange" in Vineland. Its wires leaped from one fense post to another dropping off in the homes of 13 subscribers who turn a crank to get "central."

Now it has received authority from the public utility commission to sell to the New Jersey Bell all its assets, including a score of cedar poles, a dozen "ten-pin cross-arms" and 14 crank telephones.

Price: $350.

Fate In Balance

PITTSBURGH, May 24—A jury weighing the fate of Joseph Lambert, 32, of Canton, O., on trial for the slaying of Frank Ritter, 50, was expected to renew deliberations today. The jury was locked up last night after failing to reach a verdict. Ritter was fatally beaten in a hold-up last November.

Useful Woman

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 24 —Two or three weeks ago the very popular novelist, Mrs. Katherine Norris, wrote me an awful nice letter asking me to say something about I think it was the birthday of Jane Addams.

I wrote her I would and I fully intended to, but rattle-brain like, I just forgot it, till I saw pictures of it in the papers. Then I felt terribly sorry.

Now she is dead and I feel sorrier still. Irvin Cobb just tells me she was the woman that remembered the people who everybody else forgot. I imagine she was the mose useful woman of this generation.

Yours,

Will Rogers

THE OTHER EXTREME

The fight against holding companies in the gas and electric power industries is being waged primarily on the point that such organizations tend to increase the cost of service to consumers. No one, not even defenders of the holding company practice, denies there have been abuses under it.

The question is: How can the abuses be prevented in the future? President Roosevelt has taken the position that holding companies should be abolished, except in cases where they can prove their existence does not threaten consumers' interests. Utilities claim that would be too drastic. They prefer a policy of gradual reform.

In its attempt to prove electric power costs can be reduced, the Roosevelt administration is employing a yardstick policy, which entails construction and operation of publicly owned power plants. It is claimed such plants will provide a dependable measurement of the fair cost of power.

Existing privately owned power companies deny the administration's policy is either fair or honest. On the whole, their side of the argument is stronger than the government's side, from the standpoint of abstract figures. The government has, however, the advantage of support from the consumers of power, who are persuaded easily to think only of their relation to power companies as customers, ignoring the relation of power companies to the capitalistic structure.

The Tennessee valley administration, chief of the government's yardstick projects, has been audited by the comptroller general's office. One outstanding discovery was made. While properties operated cost the public $132,782,294, they are listed on the books at only $51,000,000, 38 percent of their cost. That hints at another extreme of financial practice which government might go to in its ambition to prove it can produce power more cheaply than private producers. With the privilege of dipping into public money to make up deficits, it is not difficult to believe the government could carry its point.

WHEAT REFERENDUM

On Saturday American farmers will vote for the fourth time on a detail of the AAA program. The issue will be regulation of wheat acreage. Should it be continued or abandoned?

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has announced that unless there is a substantial affirmative vote the wheat program will be abandoned. The decision rests with him.

Last October a plebiscite on the corn-hog program was held. Less than half the contract signers voted, but approximately 70 percent voted to continue the program.

A referendum of cotton growers on compulsory control was held in December. The affirmative vote was approximately 90 percent of the votes cast. The same month 97 percent of a vote on tobacco acreage control was favorable.

Thus, wheat has a good chance. The price of wheat stands now at about 80 percent of estimated parity, compared with only 39 percent of parity in March, 1933. Benefit payments to wheat farmers in return for acreage reduction amount to $120,000,000 annually, which is supposed to represent the difference between the price received by farmers and the estimated parity price.

Farmers may not understand the AAA program in its entirety. They may disagree with details of it, and they may be apprehensive of what threatens to be complete regimentation of the farm population. But because a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush and because they are getting more for each bushel of wheat than they were able to get before AAA, it is not risky to predict Secretary Wallace will be able to point to a substantial affirmative vote when the referendum is over.

O. O. McINTYRE
NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, May 24.—Thoughts while strolling: The blarney of those Irish bus conductors! To old and middle-aged ladies they chirp: "Hurry up, girls!" Nuisance name to write: Woollcott. Billy Rose has become better known than his wife, Fannie Brice. Look alikes: Jack Lait and Ed Wynn.

Mrs. Allan Ryan might have just drifted down from the Milky Way. Who remembers when braces were galluses? Silver would sky-rocket with most of us down to the last dime. Cholly Knickerbocker's sky blue Rolls. Jimmy Durante suggests a drawing by Steig.

Add names that come up like a hiccup: Bernard Baruch. Best contributed jape of the month: John Chapman's yarn of the lady screaming "Someone has taken my pay and my aunt's pay!" And the cop yelling: "Cut out the pig Latin and tell what happened?" Most talented of the Bennetts—Joan.

Modern Katherines the Great: Cornell, Hepburn and Brush. What's become of the wink? No present day sculptor so widely discussed as the eccentric George Grey Barnard. Does anyone buy one of those canes you can make into a prop-seat? Cyrena Van Gordon has Maxine Elliott's regal walk.

Modern Damon and Pythias: Lee Olwell and George Buckley. Marc Connelly used to stand twice to make a shadow. Now look! Speaking of iron constitutions, there's Norman Kerry. And still the life of parties. White vest edgings again. I used to go for them. Those mincing deflorates around Automats.

City Interlude: On the elevated platform at Sixth ave and 42d st is a penny in the slot for salted peanuts. When someone operates it the pigeons from Bryant park swoop around in sudden cloud. And nearly everyone feeds the pigeons instead of himself.

William Rhinelander Stewart is probably New York's best known beau. The most intimate friend of Vincent Astor and best man at his wedding, he swirls with the top drawer set as well as attending the off-hand Bohemianisms sponsored by A. C. Blumenthal. He squires a blueblood to one first night and the next a many splendored beauty of the stage or cinema. The superbly valeted type of man about town, wearing the mask of boredom but never quitting the chase. He is of illustrious ancestors and when there used to be rich persons he was one.

The popularity of Gene Tunney grows steadily. It is reflected by the sports writers who razzed him gently at every opportunity—jibes about his bookishness, tall words and friendship for George Bernard Shaw. That phase has passed. Today the tone is of sincere respect. He has not the easy going approach of the lovable Dempsey or the picturesque background but respectable fans of boxing believe he did more to give the game class than any predecessor since Corbett. Champions from Sullivan down have, with minor exceptions, been loud-mouths, blow-hards. Tunney said he was going to quit when he fought Heeney and did. As to his ability, he licked the champion of champions, Dempsey, twice. Such an astute historian as Bill Corum believes Tunney in top form could slash the bungling Baer to ribbons in a few rounds. Jack McAuliffe says he could have licked Sullivan. Tunney's aloofness is largely shyness. He has stuck by old friends.

The most spectacular yet shortest lived success among theatrical team-ups continues to be Gallagher and Shean. No alliance before or since has equalled it. Obscurities out of burlesque, they rode the top waves on the notes of an exquisitely mediocre but amazingly catchy song. Shean continued a life of exemplary habits with fame and fortune but Gallagher, then in his 50's, went a pace that soon cracked him up for permanent invalidism and the wheel chair. I was a press agent during his last professional days when in their Follies number in Boston he was led half blind to the wings to wait his cue in agony. Their sons, incidentally, are now carrying on over the radio with the original song.

There's fun in a prowl in one of those only-for-the-rich specialty shops where O, so diffident clerks in their haberdashered glory have to detach themselves from day-dreaming to wait on commoners. They sell such dodads as waterproof cigaret cases for batching, twin face clocks for between beds, compasses for cross country drives, pedometers for golfers and such. But what fascinated me was one of those long bell yanks they use to summon butlers in English dramas. I'd like one for the Gallipolis sitting room if I dared.

THE STARS SAY
For Saturday, May 25

Adverse planetary aspects seem to have major force on the affairs of this day, but there are indications of a profitable journey and that a stranger may befriend. Otherwise there are signs of setbacks, postponements, vexations and worries.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a rather adverse year, with obstacles, vexations and worries. It would be wise to make the best of these, working along lines of least resistance.

A child born on this day may be disposed to depression and melancholy. It should have an early optimistic vision instilled.

Notable nativity: Ralph Waldo Emerson, poet, and philosopher.

Balanced Diet

WHAT WE eat has much to do with our health. No matter how little money a family has to spend, food always can be so well chosen that it will supply the needed nourishment. It will provide those articles that make for health and vigor.

Dr. Copeland

We hear much these days about the "balanced diet". What is meant by this term?

First of all, let me explain that there are five groups of substances that must be included in a health-giving diet. They are vitamins, minerals, proteins, fats and carbohydrates. A well-balanced diet will supply all of these substances and in such proportions as to give the body its requirements.

All types of food, such as milk, fruits, vegetables, meat, fish, cheese, eggs, bread, cereals and sweets, must be included in the diet. They are needed if we are to have the various substances I have named. One element or another, perhaps several, will be found in each of the different foods.

Vitamins Important

Though the existence of vitamins is a comparatively recent discovery, their importance in the diet cannot be overstated.

Vitamins A, B, C, D, E and G are perhaps the best known. These vitamins are found in those natural food substances that are necessary to normal growth and the promotion of the general well-being.

Vitamin A is present in a rich amount in milk, fresh, evaporated and dried. It appears also in egg-yolk, liver, butter, cheese, cod liver oil, pineapple, banana, leafy vegetables, carrots, corn, sweet potato and tomato.

Vitamin B is abundant in whole grains, yeast and malt. On this account bread, cereals and other foods made of grains, are excellent sources of this food substance. It also is found in nuts, legumes, bananas, milk, eggs, tomatoes, oysters, meats, cabbage and citrus fruits. Vitam G is similar to vitamin B and is contained in milk, eggs, meat, bananas and leafy vegetables.

Vitamin C in Fruit

Vitamin C is present in nearly all fruits and vegetables. It is especially abundant in bananas, apples, potatoes, cabbage, lettuce, citrus fruits, such as oranges, grapefruit, lime and lemons and also in milk. Fish oils, especially codliver oil, egg yolk, liver, orange juice, tomato juice, butter and milk contain appreciable amounts of vitamin D. Wheat, lettuce, watercress, muscle tissue and animal fat have adequate amounts of vitamin E.

Minerals or mineral salts, such as lime, phosphorus, iron, copper and iodine, are elements which are important to life and the various body processes. They aid in the formation of blood and bone. They help maintain the alkalinity of the blood and aid in its building properties. Minerals are found in goodly amounts in milk, milk products, vegetables, fruits, cereals, fish, nuts, liver and eggs.

Carbohydrates, fats and proteins are other food substances necessary for good health. Carbohydrates supply the body with energy. They are found chiefly in vegetables, cereal grains, fruits, honey, molasses, milk, liver and sugar.

Fats also supply the body with energy and heat. They are found in vegetables and animal oils, butter and butter products, milk and its products, meat, egg yolk and fish.

Protein must be present or normal growth and development will not take place. Protein aids in building new tissue and repairing old and worn-out tissue. It is found in eggs, milk, wheat, meat, poultry, fish, cheese, cereals, nuts, dried beans and a few vegetables, such as mushrooms, asparagus and potatoes.

Bear in mind, too, that foods containing bulk should not be omitted from the diet. They assist in eliminating the waste products of digestion.

Because essential food substances are found in such a large variety of foods it is a simple task to plan a well-balanced meal.

Answers to Health Queries

T. H. Q—How much should a girl aged 17, 5 feet 3 inches tall, weigh, also a girl aged 16, 5 feet tall, and one aged 16, 4 feet 11 inches tall?

A—They should weigh respectively about 118, 109 and 107 pounds. This is about the average weight for people of this age and height as determined by examination of a large number of persons. A few pounds above or below the average is a matter of little or no significance.

O. W. C. Q—What do you advise for shingles?

A—Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question.

HOLD BANQUET AT COLUMBIANA

Mother-Daughter Fete Is Observed In Christian Church

COLUMBIANA, May 24 — A mother-daughter banquet was enjoyed in the dining room of the Christian church, sponsored by the Onward and Upward class. There were 35 present, the dinner being served by members of Mrs. H. W. Lundgren's class, Mrs. Gaylord Zellers welcomed the guests and Mrs. Paul Gleckler responded for the mothers. Mrs. Donald Zellers favored with piano and vocal solos and Mrs. Ray Culp with a vocal number. Mrs. Ida Morris, Rogers entertained with a group of three readings. Games and contests in charge of Mrs. Marcus Flickinger completed the program.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Forbes attended the May Day festivities at Grove City College, Grove City, Pa. Their daughter, Miss Miriam was one of the five heralds of the May Queen selected from the freshman class.

The Methodist Young Women's Guild met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. D. Roller, S. Main St., with 15 present. After the business session in charge of Mrs. C. H. Shontz, light refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Vaughn were at Lake Placentia Wednesday evening attending a meeting of the Farm Bureau of West and Knox townships. Mr. Vaughn, local poultry expert, gave a talk on poultry raising.

Columbiana stores and business houses will be closed all day Thursday, May 30 in observance of Memorial Day. The stores will be open the evening previous for the convenience of customers.

Mrs. C. L. Esterly and daughter, Marie of Leetonia were Columbiana business visitors Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Nolan returned Wednesday evening from a business trip to Columbus.

John Ryan, Jr. was a business caller in East Liverpool Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Entrekin visited Youngstown relatives Wednesday.

Rev. A. G. Westphal, Salem was a Columbiana visitor Wednesday.

TIFFIN, O. — Chickens in the flock owned by Mrs. Joseph Clouse are placing their own interpretation on the AAA's effort to curtail production. One hen determined to observe the principle of restriction in the letter, if not in the spirit, by packing three ordinary eggs into one shell. The egg weighed four ounces and had a circumference of 7 1-3 inches. Another hen hatched a chicken with three legs.

A WORD TO THE WIVES IS SUFFICIENT
The meals you serve help keep the family fit. In many homes, common constipation develops as a result of insufficient "bulk" in the menu. This can be overcome by a delicious cereal.
Research shows that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" in convenient form. ALL-BRAN also provides vitamin B and iron.
How much better it is to eat this gentle natural food than to risk irritating patent medicines. Continued use does not lower its effectiveness. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved, see your doctor.
Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Mothers and fathers of the students will be entertained at luncheons at the various sorority and fraternity houses preceding the pageant. Today's activities will be concluded with a May dance for students and alumnae in the evening.

Teacher Is Honored At Shower

Miss Veida Lawn, of Alliance, Salem High school teacher, was complimented with a shower Wednesday evening by a group of her friends at the home of Miss Bessie Meeks, Walker ave., Alliance. Miss Grace Robbins and Miss Roxie Siegenthaler were assistant hostesses.

Bridge proved a diversion, with prizes going to Miss Lawn, Misses Edythe Cope and Mildred Worrall. The honoree also received a guest prize.

Dainty refreshments were served at a lovely table appointed in pastel shades carried out in the sweet peas forming the centerpiece and the candles.

The shower of gifts was presented in a large powder box decorated with large colored bubbles. A large cotton powder puff formed the lid for the box. Clever little favors were miniatures of the gift box filled with sachet and topped with cotton puffs. Out of town guests were Mrs. Archie Domer and Mrs. Walter Lembright of Dover.

Miss Lawn will become the bride of Russell W. Carter June 12 at St. Helen, Mich.

TENINO, Wash. — Merchants of Tenino gained fame for the city in early depression days by issuing wooden scrip money. When the Washington sales tax, requiring aluminum tokens, went into effect, there was a sudden shortage of the discs. Merchants promptly issued wooden substitutes, to be redeemed as soon as regular tokens are available.

PUYALLUP, Wash. — William Harmon, 13, will pick his shows with greater care hereafter. Attending a movie, he closed his eyes for a moment. When he awoke, it was dark and lonesome—3 o'clock in the morning. A night police officer, attracted by his cries, released young Harmon.

Today's Pattern

MAKE THE MORNING "FRILLY" WHETHER YOU'RE A "FRILLY" OR NOT!

Pattern 2318

There just isn't anyone whose feminine charm isn't increased with the addition of a "frilly" morning frock! Most especially if that frock is fashioned of crisp cotton with a fresh, bright print to its credit. Don't the brief scalloped shoulder cap and beruffled scalloped yoke give this dress the very Spirit of Youth! And that's the right spirit to start the morning with, too, so make up enough of them to start every Summer morning right. A cool trick is to eliminate the cap-sleeve entirely, then the yoke ruffle fetchingly caps the shoulder. You'll find the pocket as handy as it is decorative.

Pattern 2318 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3¼ yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

And now . . . Anne Adams summer pattern book is ready! Between its covers lie forty pages of Fascinating Fashion Facts. Everyone's problem is solved—the Bride with Trousseau Troubles—Matron with Weighty problems—much "dated" Junior Debs—Tiny Tots at Play—and Everyone on Vacation! Not only will your every stitch be a smarter one but you'll find you've developed a new Smart Point-of-View after digesting the absorbing special features! Send for your copy today! Price of book fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

RED CROSS AIDED IN FUND DRIVE

Accomplishments, Needs Of Chapter Cited By Secretary

quirement is the returning of the articles in the condition in which they were gotten.

"The chapter has asked for the return of Captain Goss some time in the fall; also has asked for Dr. Teldon, a first aid instructor from National Red Cross.

"Is Red Cross to continue its supplementary relief to families that are helping themselves? They have back debts contracted in the jobless years, the bread-earner is making enough for food and the bare necessities of life but clothing, bedding, and medical care are much needed. A total of $526.50 worth of new clothing was given out this past year, $361.50 worth of second-hand clothing, totalling $888, plus household furnishings, vegetables and food that were donated to our chapter. Relief to the amount of $2246.63 was administered in 1934 by Salem Red Cross.

"Do not let your discarded clothin hang in your closets. Some one less fortunate than yourself can utilize it by making it over for their children.

"Is it humane to let a young man, crippled in both limbs since childhood, the effect of infantile paralysis, but with an exceptionally good brain, go without the needed braces that will make walking more comfortable; because of the lack of available funds for a new set of braces? This young man has been very desirous for some time of more education. He graduated from our high school in three years. This year the Red Cross has gotten him an education in Salem Business College financed by the Welfare department of the state. Daily he walks a mile and a quarter each way to the college. It is all he can do to get along on the braces he now has.

"A total of $2405 is coming into this community each month to 141 pensioners, with 87 cases still pending. Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, states 'The need in every community for private welfare funds is greater than at any time in the past. The government funds can not meet the urgent need for service designed to prevent delinquency, especially delinquency in our young people. Very often the individual citizen confuses emergency relief for the general community welfare work.

"Every friend of the Salem Red Cross is asked to help make it possible for the chapter to continue its work for humanity by answering the call of the Community Chest.

Fess Asks Help

WILMINGTON, O., May 24—Driving is all right until you get into Wilmington traffic, former U. S. Senator Simeon D. Fess of Yellow Springs believes. Arriving here to make an address he called a friend, Col. C. R. Fisher, from the city limits and asked him to drive the Fess car into town. Ready to go home again, Fess told Col. Fisher:

"You drive me to the city limits and I'll manage to get home.

Court In Hospital

LEBANON, O., May 24—Because a woman needed her naturalization papers to take a foreign missionary post, Federal Judge Robert R. Nevin broke court precedent here yesterday. Recovering from injuries suffered in a recent automobile accident, he held court in his hospital room here, wearing hospital clothes instead of the customary black robes. The woman, whose name was not disclosed, was granted her papers.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 24 — Material setbacks of grain prices early today followed senate action upholding the bonus bill veto. Most traders construed the upholding of the veto as likely to allay inflation talk for the time being at least. Opening unchanged to ½ cent lower, July 90-90⅛, wheat soon fell all around. Corn also started unchanged to ⅛ off, July 81⅛-½, and then showed a general decline.

NAVY HEADING BACK TO HAWAII

Squadron of Patrol Planes Expected In Pearl Harbor Tonight

(By Associated Press)

ABOARD BATTLESHIP PENNSYLVANIA ENROUTE TO HAWAII, May 24—Forty naval patrol planes of an epochal Pacific flight sped toward Hawaii today on a return trip from Midway Island, where tragedy overtook the huge Armada in a crash that killed six fliers.

The huge squadron was expected to land in Pearl Harbor tonight after the two-day 1,200 mile flight, broken by an overnight stop at French Frigate Shoal, 500 miles west of Honolulu.

The return will complete unprecedented mid-Pacific operations of naval aircraft, marking the first transit to Midway and return of any planes, and aggregate thousands of miles of flying by the huge patrol craft in their 16 days away from Pearl Harbor.

The flight back to Hawaii was ordered after fruitless search for victims of the 6P7, which crashed into the sea during battle maneuvers Tuesday night while circling over a sister ship which had been forced down. A destroyer later took the disabled plane in tow.

The accident brought to eight the fatalities that have occurred during the fleet's extensive 1935 maneuvers.

Midway Island, halfway between the Orient and America, was lapsing back into its isolated loneliness today as 700 marines gathered their gear for departure after a 13-day encampment. They had acted as a landing force on this Pacific outport during the vast fleet maneuvers.

With the flagship Pennsylvania in the vanguard, 165 warships of the United States fleet, with Hawaii-based craft, were moving eastward as independent units.

Fifty thousand officers and men of the warships were looking forward to several days relaxation in Hawaii on arrival tomorrow after a month of the fleet's most strenuous peacetime work.

Kamm, Myatt, Jolted In Indian Shakeup

PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—The Cleveland Indians, already fighting a slump on their eastern invasion, faced the remainder of the campaign today without the services of two veterans.

Manager Walter Johnson has given Glenn Myatt, veteran catcher, his unconditional release, and Willie Kamm, third baseman, has been suspended "for the good of the ball club".

With Myatt and Kamm gone, Center Fielder Earl Averill is the only player on the club who is over 30. Kamm was ordered to report to Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland Baseball Company, and Billy Evans, general manager, in Cleveland. Johnson refused to elaborate on his remarks concerning Kamm.

Routed From Bed

ESTERVILLE, O., May 24—A fire in the laundry room of King hall, Men's dormitory on the Otterbein college campus here, routed 100 men students from their beds in night attire at 2 a. m. today.

Students extinguished the blaze before firemen arrived said an iron which had been left turned on caused the fire. However, Dr. Walter G. Clippinger, president of the college, said the fire "looked suspicious."

Firemen estimated damage at $300.

Awarded Medal

NEW YORK, May 24—John B. Tytus, Middletown, O., has been awarded the Gary Memorial medal, highest award of the steel industry, by the American Iron & Steel institute. The award was made last night. Tytus is vice president of the American Rolling Mill company. The medal is given annually to the person who in the opinion of the institute directors "has been outstanding in his service to the industry."

Barbara's "In-law"?

Elsie Rossi

Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow, Woolworth heiress, may shortly acquire a new sister-in-law, according to Broadway observers who attach significance to the renewed attentions paid Elsie Rossi, above, former Follies beauty, by Henri, brother of the five-and-ten heiress' new husband.

MT. VERNON, Wash.—Frederick Sears trained his collie dog too well. He taught the animal to bring the evening paper in the house. The dog did it, then went outside and brought back several dozen papers belonging to neighbors.

HEALTH UNIT FILES REPORT

County Board Announces Statistical Survey For the Year

LISBON, May 24—The annual report of activities of the Columbiana county board of health just compiled, shows 409 deaths and 358 births for the last fiscal year. The record pertains to all parts of the county outside municipal corporations where a local board of health functions.

Twelve deaths reported was due to tuberculosis, and pneumonia was the death cause in 31 instances. Scarlet fever caused the death of five persons and diphtheria, one.

Record of the number of communicable diseases reported during the fiscal term shows: Diphtheria, three; measles, 199; pneumonia, one; scarlet fever, 132; smallpox, two; tuberculosis, 18; typhoid fever, seven; whooping cough, 67; communicable diseases, 73.

During the last fiscal year, the report shows 1,202 individua's were vaccinated or re-vaccinated, these cases being with n the boundries of the 24 school districts served by the county health unit.

Thirty-nine persons in this district were bitten by dogs during the period covered by the report, all of whom received Pasteur treatment.

Poppies Made By Disabled Veterans, Go On Sale Saturday

Tomorrow the United States will pay its annual tribute to its World War dead by wearing their flower, the poppy.

Millions of Americans in almost every city and town throughout the country will wear the blood-red memorial poppy to show that they still honor and are grateful for the services of those men who gave their lives in defense of the nation seventeen years ago. In purchasing the poppies, they will contribute to the welfare of the disabled veterans and the families left in distress by the death or disability of a veteran.

Women from the American Legion Auxiliary will be on the streets here all day distributing the memorial flowers. They will be part of an army of nearly 100,000 women which will carry out the Auxiliary's nation-wide distribution of poppies.

The poppies have been made by disabled veterans working in 56 different government hospitals and convalescent workrooms located in forty states. The flowers which will be distributed here were made at the Soldiers and Sailors Home, Sandusky. They will be offered on the streets by a corps of volunteer workers under the leadership of Mrs. Chas. T. Kennedy, chairman of the Auxiliary's Poppy Day committee. The workers will include Auxiliary members and sons and daughters of Legionnaires.

No price will be asked for the poppies, each person being free to contribute as little or as much as he chooses for his flower. All funds received will be expended in the welfare activities of the American Legion and Auxiliary among disabled veterans and needy families of veterans during the coming year. The bulk of the money will remain in Salem.

Select Districts For Works Progress

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Sixteen districts are to be established in Ohio for administrative purposes by the works progress division of the new relief organization.

The districts with leading industrial cities their centers, have been decided upon under the direction of Harry L. Hopkins, chief of the progress division.

The district directors are to be named by C. C. Stillman, appointed Ohio administrator by Hopkins.

Following are headquarters of the districts:

Warren, Youngstown, Canton, Zanesville, Athens, Cleveland, Akron, Sandusky, Mansfield, Columbus, Chillicothe, Toledo, Lima, Springfield, Dayton and Cincinnati. Some of them embrace only one county, while others contain a number of the less populous counties.

BARNESVILLE, O. — The local fire department is in conflict with Uncle Sam. FERA workers have been banned from loafing in the fire station because of disappearance of pieces of equipment.

Iceman Wins Kissing Derby

Patricia Richt — Bill Haapla

Bill Haapla, winner of the iceman's race for the prize of a kiss from a beautiful housewife, was rewarded by Patricia Richt, queen of the carnival held at Seattle, Wash., to interest citizens in the city's parks.

Theater Attractions

Saturday and Sunday the Grand is showing a western picture entitled "Neath Arizona Skies," starring John Wayne. Others in the cast are Sheila Terry, Jay Wilsey, Shirley Rickets and Jack Rockwell.

The story concerns the search, by Wayne, for the father of a girl 10 years old whom he has reared from infancy. The girl, worth a fortune through inheritance of oil lands from her mother, is also sought after by a band of outlaws led by Canutt, a notorious renegade.

James Cagney

With usual daring, Wayne undertakes to destroy the outlaws by himself, because the sheriff distrusts him and offers no help in his quest.

After a series of experiences which almost cost him his life, Wayne succeeds in destroying the gang and finding the father of the child.

Sheila Terry plays opposite Wayne in the romantic lead.

Another thrilling chapter of the serial, "Law of the Wild," will be shown along with the feature picture.

The State theater tonight and tomorrow is showing the picture, "G-Men." The cast includes Jim Cagney, Margaret Lindsay, Ann Dvorak and Robert Armstrong.

Cagney, as a United States Department of Justice agent, tracks down and eliminates the type of character he has so often portrayed. He is a tough guy from New York's east side who throws overboard a promising law practice to become a G man. Cagney chooses this profession in an attempt to avenge the murder of his college chum (Regis Toomey) who went straight from school into the Secret Service. Cagney sets out to exterminate the gang responsible for the murder.

The story was written by Gregory Rogers and is based on headlines so familiar that one will readily recognize many of the incidents.

Ann Dovorak, who sang for the first time in "Sweet Music," again sings in "G-Men" a current tune entitled "You Bother Me an Awful Lot."

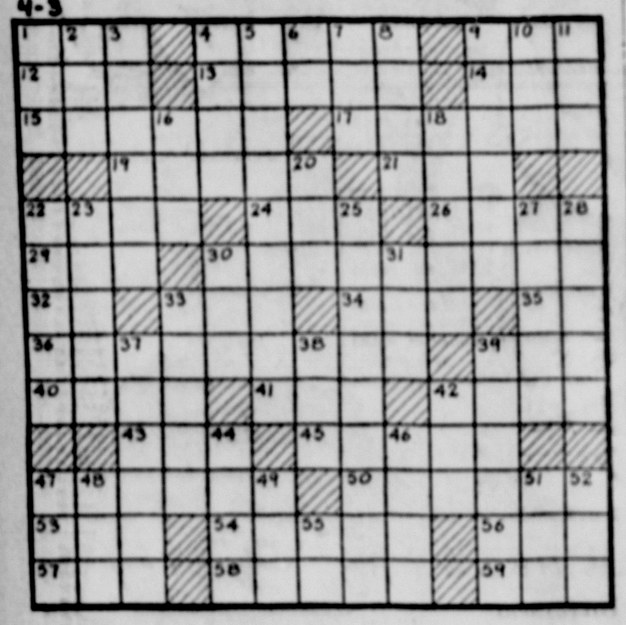

FRANKLIN, Idaho—June 15 will mark the 75th birthday of Franklin, the first permanent settlement in Idaho. Two of the original pioneers will attend the anniversary festival. The first celebration was held in 1910, when Governor J. H. Brady proclaimed June 15 as Idaho day.

PORT HANEY, L. C. — Thieves stole an automobile from J. A. Carr's service station. The car got stuck in a ditch a few blocks away. The robbers returned to the station, took a truck, pulled the vehicle out and sped away in the car.

HOME MAKING HELPS

DISHES TO PREPARE FOR YOUNG HUSBANDS

COOKING IS a thoroughly romantic pastime if you happen to be a bride. It's no end of fun to experiment with new dishes. The young bride doesn't seem to mind cooking a bit as she fusses around her brand new galley, equipped from stem to stern with all sorts of new gadgets. But there comes a time, sooner or later, when the novelty wears off and then our little wife casts about for dishes that are easy, quick and simple to make. So here are some recipes that answer her needs to a T.

Salmon steak hollandaise is an ideal main dish for summer evenings when meat seems too heavy to even contemplate it. If there are no guests for dinner, cut the recipe in half, and this will yield enough for a second helping for friend husband. Mix together one and a half cups salmon and liquor, eighty finely crumbled soda crackers, one teaspoon lemon juice, half teaspoon prepared mustard, salt and pepper and one beaten egg. Shape into a flat cake spread with one tablespoon butter and bake in very hot oven (475 F.) for 20 minutes. Serve at once with hollandaise sauce. An excellent quick hollandaise may be made by combining equal parts of medium white sauce and mayonnaise.

Another substantial stand-by that goes over well with young husbands or grandpas is ham and corn fritters. Put one and a half cups of canned corn in a bowl, add half cup chopped cooked ham, one beaten egg and half teaspoon salt. Add 24 crumbled flake crackers and one teaspoon baking powder. Drop by spoonfuls in deep hot fat and fry to a golden brown. Drain on soft paper and serve piping hot. It makes 12 fritters.

Angel parfait not only sounds heavenly but it is heavenly to eat. Make some in the morning, pop in the ice-box and there'll be a gorgeous dessert for dinner, especially if company is coming.

Angel Parfait Recipe

To make, soften one teaspoon gelatin in two tablespoons cold water and dissolve over boiling water, taking the cold water from a cup of water. Boil remaining water and half cup of sugar to thread stage (225 F.), then pour slowly into two stiffly-beaten egg whites, beating while pouring. Add dissolved gelatin and stir occasionally till it thickens. Fold in half cup whipped cream, one teaspoon orange flavoring, eighth of a teaspoon salt and 18 crumbled ginger snaps. Freeze in freezing tray of refrigerator or chill for several hours. It makes six portions.

Mrs. Roosevelt Inspects Mine

Emerging from a coal mine at Bellaire, O., with considerable first-hand information but not a smudge on her face, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, shown above as she conversed with two miners on wages and working conditions, pronounced the trip "very interesting."

NAMPA, Idaho—In the interests of musical culture in their community, a group of 30 women in the Horseshoe Bend Improvement club has purchased and maintained musical instruments for a 35-piece orchestra. The instruments are loaned free of charge to all seriously interested persons, the only stipulation being that the borrower practice daily and play in the orchestra.

Father Ran for Senate

His principal election campaign pledge promised his constituents that he would back Roosevelt and the New Deal.

His victory over his Republican opponent, Senator H. D. Hatfield, marked the climax of a political career which includes four years in the West Virginia state legislature.

His political heritage comes from his father who began to practice medicine in the West Virginia hills in 1872. The elder Holt ran for senator three times on the Socialist ticket and was elected mayor of Weston three years ago when he was 82.

Young Holt's record in the state legislature shows him to be a scrapper and an aggressive champion of what he believes right. He backed numerous reform measures and gained much attention by his attacks on political intrigue.

Home For Aged Women Has Provided Shelter For 75

The Home For Aged Women, which shares in the Community Chest funds, was established for the care of aged and infirm women of moderate circumstances.

This institution was organized largely through the efforts of Hannah Kell whose sympathies for worthy, aged women suffering from lack of proper care, induced her to call a meeting of other interested women.

The result was that in the latter part of 1888 the home was formally opened for the admission of inmates. It was one of the first homes of its kind founded in this part of the country.

Including the women now in the home, it has sheltered 75 women.

The fugitive ran from a door brushed aside a woman who said she was his wife.

"If we have to shoot, we'll shoot." Helpbringer warned. Hensley pulled himself into the attic.

Getting no response, the deputy loosed two gas shells.

Dr. A. J. Devany, jail physician, found a bullet had plowed his scalp to the bone, but said Hensley would recover.

Seeks Second Gunman

Hensley was wearing only pajama pants. His soaked clothing was scattered about the room. A battered flash light was found, but the heavy gas cloud prevented search of the attic for a gun.

He told Chief Deputy Helpbringer that after a hail of bullets fired by Traffice Patrolmen Paul Weir and John Griffen in an 80-mile-an-hour chase riddled the car, which records show was stolen in Youngstown, he and his companion fled on foot to the north, the other to the south of the Medina road.

The chief deputy reported Hensley made a complete oral confession at his home.

Police are on the trail of the second gunman, seeking to link him through the license number on his automobile.

The Prizefighter And The Lady

Jim Braddock To Be In Fine Shape for Title Fight June 13

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

FERNDALE, N. Y., May 24 — James J. Braddock, if he lives, is going to be as fine conditioned a challenger as ever stepped into the ring when he meets Max Baer for the heavyweight championship out on Long Island the night of June 13.

The training camp of this Jersey Irishman, a few miles down the road from where Jimmy McLarnin and Barney Ross are preparing for their welterweight title battle Tuesday night at the Polo grounds is more of a fistic abbatoir than a conditioning ground.

It's the closest thing to the old slug-'em-silly school of preparation Jack Dempsey used to revel in than anything the heavyweights have seen since the old mauler's training days.

Takes Punishment

"If he lives," says little Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, "he's going to be in great shape."

James J. usually is so exhausted he can't say a word in his own behalf.

The way this fantastic place differs from Dempsey's walloping wallows, is that Braddock at the moment is taking most of the punishment. In fact, there are times when the long shot challenger is practically fighting for his life against four of the biggest, roughest sparring partners Gould could find for him.

He fought three of them eight rounds while they were boxing one, resting two. The first man was Jack McCarthy, of Boston, a midget of 190 pounds. The second was Paul Pross, a 19-year-old German with piano legs, weighing 210. The third was Norman Barnett, 6 feet 4 inches tall, weighing 205.

They tore into Braddock, under instructions to hit him with long right hand swings, a la Baer, and they played their parts so realistically that in the eight rounds they must have clipped him no less than 50 times on the chin.

In Night Relays

CINCINNATI, May 24. — The University of Cincinnati announced today that Dayton Oakwood and Lima Central are the first high schools to enter the university's interscholastic night relays, to be held May 31.

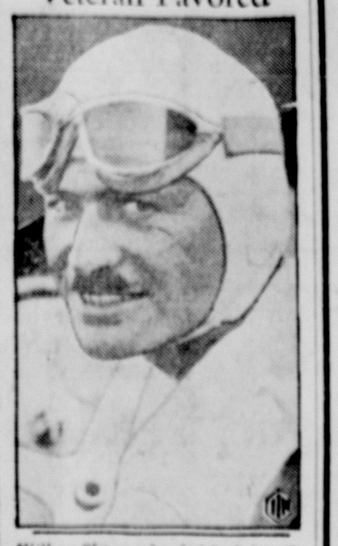

Golf Luminaries In Final 16 Holes

CINCINNATI, May 24.—Sixteen of Ohio's outstanding links luminaries faced a difficult chore here today as they launched the final 36 holes of the state intercollegiate golf championship tourney.

The chore was to erase the four-stroke lead which Jack Bricker of Western Reserve piled up in the rain yesterday on Makelewah's rolling fairways and tricky greens. Bricker's total of 156 for the first 36 holes clinched the four-man team championship for reserve, the crown being knocked from the brow of the Cincinnati Bearcats.

Allen Joslin, Jr., of Cincinnati defending champion was 10 strokes behind the flying leaders as today's play started. The difference between Joslin's and Bricker's score yesterday was the making of victory for reserve in the team event. Scores made in the team play will be added to today's 36-hole total, with the low scorer being named the individual champ.

Veteran Favored

Wilbur Shaw, who finished fourth in 1927 and second in 1933, is one of the favorites in the 500-mile auto race at Indianapolis Memorial Day. He'll have a new car this year and hopes to lead the pack home.

Track Classics

COLLEGE track stars will have their big innings in several weeks, with those two classic intercollegiate championships, the I. C. A. A. A. A. and N. C. A. A. games on tap, showing the cream of the nation's college performers on track and field.

The I. C. 4-A competition will be another California party the week-end of May 30, with more than 50 athletes coming on to Cambridge from the coast, and either Stanford and Southern California seem certain to win the team title.

IT WON'T be long now before the sage guru of golf begin to thunder over the formidable Oakmont course, aiming their fire at the coveted United States Open crown now resting uneasily upon the black-thatched dome of Senor Olin Dutra of Los Angeles and Spain.

That Oakmont course already has the boys so hot and bothered that plenty of them are betting their hard-earned dough that no competitor breaks 300 over the championship route.

The layout over this course is very difficult, and puts a premium on straight hitting and good iron play. The fairways are terribly narrow and those players with the slightest tendency to hook their shots are going to find themselves in plenty of hot water right from the start.

There are quite a few ball players of Italian descent now starring in the major leagues, and oddly enough, almost all of them came up from California. Detroit Looks Like It Might Overtake Two League Leaders

Tigers, Playing Consistent Brand of Ball, Have Climbed From American Loop Cellar Into Fourth Place

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The strange situation which finds the two 1934 pennant clubs struggling to hold first division berths in their respective leagues seems due for a sudden overhauling if the spurt of the Detroit Tigers continues.

Mickey Cochrane's crew, playing a steady, consistent brand of ball, unmarked by fireworks, finally has climaxed a climb from the American league cellar by breaking into fourth place.

Since they struck bottom April 27, at the end of a six game losing streak, they have rung up 14 victories against four defeats and finally moved past Boston into the first division with a 5 to 3 triumph over the Red Sox yesterday.

The triumph was their fifth straight, the second string of that length since they began winning and was accomplished in just as unspectacular a manner as the others. Schoolboy Rowe, winning his third game of the season, pitched three-hit ball for six innings, then weakened just enough to let the Sox get into the running.

Meanwhile Hank Greenberg paced the Tiger hitters, driving in three runs with his eighth home run of the season and a timely fly after Detroit had hopped off to a 2-0 lead against Dusty Rhodes in the fourth.

The rest of the American league program yielded to cold and rainy weather as did Cincinnati's effort to stage the first major league night game in history with the Phillies as their opponents. A steady over night rain and chilly breezes forced the postponement of the spectacle with its elaborate side features until tonight.

The Cardinals, meanwhile, did their share toward the program of getting the world series out of fourth place by taking a weird 8 to 7 ten-inning decision from Brooklyn and gaining a full game on all the other first division clubs except Chicago.

The Cubs, with a somewhat altered lineup, outlasted the league leading Giants to win 6 to 4 when Charley Root proved a better relief pitcher than Leon Chagnon and moved into second place a few points ahead of Brooklyn, which had consolation only in a virtual tie for the position.

A freak home run by Kiki Cuyler, who circled the bases in the eighth after Hank Leiber had fallen just as he got under a fly ball, proved the deciding blow for the Cubs.

The Pittsburgh fans put on a special show to honor Rabbit Maranville, former pirate player, and the Bucs put the usual finish on the affair by beating the Braves and Maranville 7 to 1, with the aid of Arky Vaughan's eighth circuit swat of the year and plunked the losers back into the National league cellar behind the Phillies.

Approximately 150 junior high school athletes of Fourth Street school will participate in the annual junior high track and field meet in the confines of Reilly stadium this afternoon, starting at 3:45 p. m.

Coach R. B. Clark will be in charge of the youths. The pick of the junior high cindermen on Friday, May 31, will meet the Salem High school freshmen track stars in a junior-freshmen meet at Reilly stadium.

Big League Night Game Billed Today

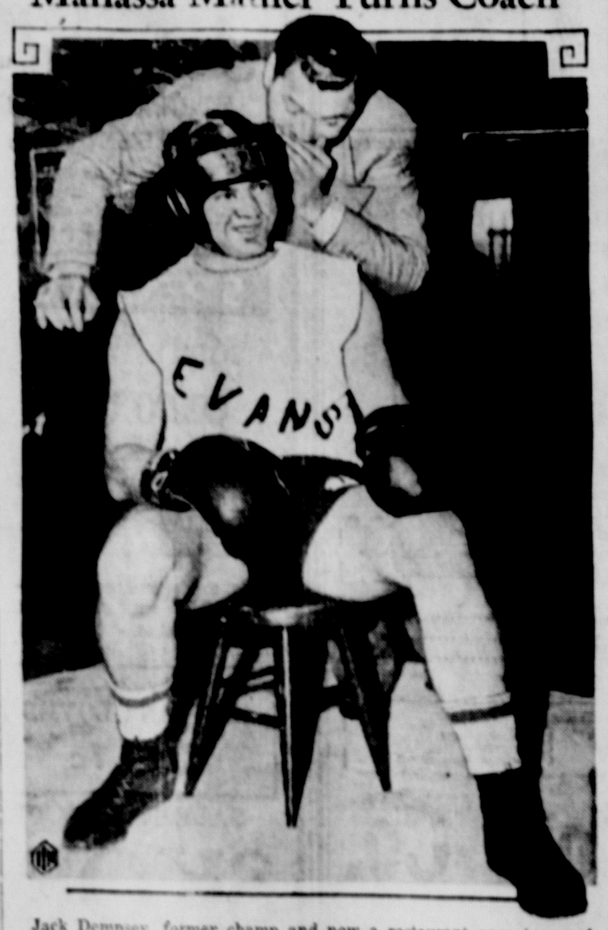

CINCINNATI, May 24—The rain disappointed 30,000 baseball fans last night in their hope of seeing the first major league night baseball game in history, but the Phillies and the Reds will make another try tonight, barring the customary weather possibilities.

Larry MacPhail, general manager of the Reds, said President Roosevelt is still willing to press the button that will turn on the new $50,000 lighting system at Crosley field, so the game postponed from yesterday is on the books for tonight.

WOOSTER, May 23.—Exactly 263 track athletes, from 16 Ohio Conference colleges, are entered in the 33rd annual track meet which will be run off here in the College of Wooster stadium Friday and Saturday.

Pictured here are some of the point winners from the 1934 meet who will be defending their laurels. Ellsworth Trego of Capital holds the broad jump record with a leap of 23 feet 8½ inches. John Hartman of Bowling Green won the 100-yard dash last year. Lester Demler of Case and Ralph Weber of Oberlin, point winners in the half-mile last year, are favored to battle for first in this event. Coach L. C. Boles of Wooster is manager of the meet.

All-Star Akron Bowlers Here For Saturday Match

Ford V-8 Keglers, Nearing Close of Fine Season, Book Home Exhibition Series

When Salem's bowlers hang up their shoes for the season they can boast of one of the finest years the sport has had here for some time.

With the City league in operation, under the direction of Ed Maley, and numerous independent teams and matches on the boards at the Masonic temple during the winter and spring, the sport evidenced a revival that is bound to be carried on next spring.

But the shouting's not all over this spring, yet.

Maley, president of the city league, a bowler of considerable accomplishment himself, today announced he had booked a special exhibition match with an all-star Akron team for Saturday night on the Masonic slides.

Three of the visiting keglers are outstanding in their own particular sphere.

Heading the list is Pete Shaw, who has rolled 18 perfect scores during his visits to the alleys. Shaw was a member of the All-American team which rolled in Europe in 1928 in the international tourney and comes to Salem with a season's average of .211.

Marvin Summa can claim an average of .213 for the four leagues he bowls in. He ranks as one of the Rubber City's outstanding pin crashers.

Bill Zehm is also a 200 bowler. He turned in a perfect score in the Akron City league this season and narrowly missed the mark on several other occasions.

In order to accommodate spectators, plans are under way to close No. 1 and No. 2 alleys here and place seats there Saturday night, Maley said.

Another home-and-home series with Youngstown bowlers is also being planned, the first match here June 1 and the second at Youngstown June 8. The two teams divided a recent home-and-home series.

Lawson Little Is Strong Favorite

Looks Even Better Now As Quarter-Final Round Starts

(By Associated Press)

ST. ANNE'S-ON-THE-SEA, Eng., May 24—William Lawson Little, Jr., of San Francisco, was a stronger favorite than ever today to retain his British amateur golf championship as the eight survivors set out for the quarter-final round.

Two 18-hole rounds were scheduled for today, reducing the field to the two finalists, who will battle over 36 holes for the title tomorrow.

Following his two victories yesterday, one by a margin of 2 and 1 and the other two up, it was generally conceded the Californian had what it needed when the going became tough.

Robert Sweeney, former New Yorker now living in England, was the only other American in the quarter-final round. He had a close call in his final match yesterday, winning from W. H. Robb on the 19th hole after breezing to victory in the morning round.

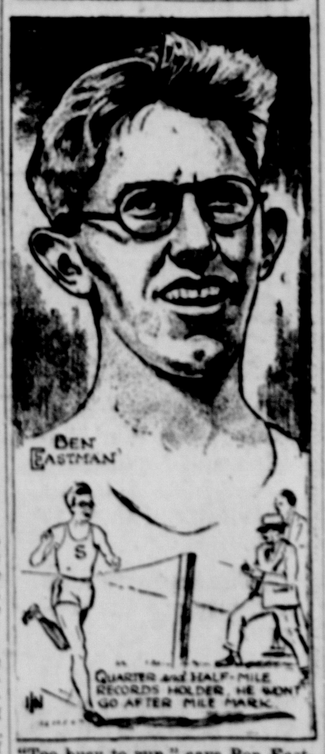

If both Little and Sweeney are victorious in their first round today, they will meet in the semi-final with the odds all in favor of the defending champion. First, however, Little must dispose of George L. G. Henriques, a three-handicap player of the home club and Sweeney must get by Alex Walker.

Salem High Will Be Represented In State Track Meet Saturday

Four Tracksters Eligible For State Competition Quaker Tennis Singles Team Also In Tourney

Salem High school's track and tennis teams will be represented by a qualified group in the state meet at Columbus this weekend.

The four Quaker athletes who qualified in the district meet at Youngstown Rayen stadium last Saturday, will leave for Columbus tonight, accompanied by Coach Fred Cope and Herb Brown. They are Paul Layden, Dick Eakin, Paul Roelen and Al Rich.

Both Layden and Eakin will compete in the pole vault at the state tournament. Eakin also will clear in the high hurdles. Roelen, sophomore runner, will participate in the mile event. Broad jump competition will see Al Rich fighting for place of honor.

Salem High's doubles team of Dick Carey and Donald Hamm runners-up in the district matches at Canton last weekend, will represent Salem in the state tourney. The other Quaker tennis stars were eliminated in district competition.

The high school golf team, which hasn't had a very successful season of it this year, will not be in the state meet, but on Saturday morning will meet Warren Harding High school golfers in a match at the Lakeside golf course.

95 Class A Schools

The state meet will attract 95 class A schools and 111 class B teams, survivors of their county and district eliminations. The senior teams will bring 313 boys, while 258 will compete in class B.

Gedeon of Cleveland West climbed the 120-yard high hurdles in :15.2 last Saturday, his mark being two-tenths of a second under the state record set by Oliver of Dayton Roosevelt five years ago.

Coates of Kings Mills, in class B, upset a mark which has stood since 1928 when he negotiated the mile run in 4:36.8, a second and two-tenths under the mark set by Dimond of Bellevue, Thompson township.

The class B javeline record of 168 feet 7 inches, set by Limpert of North Olmstead in 1933, was bettered five feet and two inches by Basinger of Columbiana, who hurled the sphere 173 feet 10 inches last Saturday.

Preliminaries in the state meet will be held Friday afternoon in the dashes, hurdles and the mile relay, with the finals scheduled for Saturday morning and afternoon.

COLUMBUS, May 24—Aiming for titles in track, baseball, golf and tennis, 700 high school athletics flocked to Columbus today.

Finalists in Class A and B baseball will be selected and preliminary events in track will be run off today. Opening rounds of golf and tennis also are scheduled.

Miss Jacobs Loses In Doubles Match

PARIS, May 24.—If Helen Jacobs is to salvage a victory out of the French hard court tennis championships it will have to be in the singles.

The United States was sent to the sidelines in the Women's doubles yesterday when she and her French partner, Me. Renme Mathieu, were handed an unexpected setback by the young English combination of Misses Adeline Yorke and R. M. Hardwick. Previously Miss Jacobs had been eliminated in the mixed doubles.

"I agree with you. And when was Valcour picked up again?"

"About two o'clock Wednesday. He came back to his studio and worked."

"Then he might have had the opportunity to participate in the murder of Hovarty, to get possession of the jewels—if he did not already have them."

"Yep. If we'd been suspicious of him at the time w'd have run him in, just to be on the safe side. But he didn't strike me as looking like a big-time thief. Well ..... we'd better beat it uptown with those photographs, Captain."

Before leaving headquarters they had an advance report from the bureau of identification concerning the finger-prints on Valcour's picture. These marks were notable mainly by reason of the fact that they were exceedingly numerous. And none of them had checked up, as yet, with the finger-prints of any known criminal. None of the suspects in the Elderbank case had been finger-printed by the police, with the exception of the two arrested, Thurber and Duane. Their records were not found upon the picture.

At the hotel-apartment house on Central Park West to which they proceeded, Darden and Montigny met further disappointment. The superintendent, switchboard girls and elevator men alike were positive that none of the photographs shown them was the likeness of the Jacob Schurman who had fleetingly resided there.

"When it's unanimous like that," grumbled Darden. "I guess there's no doubt about it. However, these are only the mugs of known or convicted fences. The Inspector says he can get hold of some others not officially on file—pictures of men who have been suspected more or less but men we haven't been able to prove anything against, definitely. We'll try them later."

"We must try everything," said Montigny gravely. "The Elderbank jewels, and, for all we know, the men who killed their owner, are slipping away from us."

"Do you think it would do any good to take a look at the other pictures in Valcour's studio—or the others at the art shop?"

Montigny shook his head. "I am afraid not. I inspected all of them. I found none resealed, as the important one had been, with adhesive paper. However it is best to be sure."

They stopped, on the way back to headquarters, to take possession of the Valcour watercolors remaining at the Art Mart—the shop was still open for business—and to visit Valcour's studio.

As they had had reason to fear, Valcour had not returned, nor had anything been heard of him.

"Out of jail and gone, is he!" exclaimed Jimmy Kirkman. "I've felt all along that little heel was up to some crookedness."

"Is Mr. Coultney upstairs?" inquired Montigny.

"Yes, he's home."

"Perhaps he may tell us something of Valcour."

Douglas W. Coultney was dressing for dinner when he admitted the two detectives, and he apologized for his shirt-sleeves. He seemed puzzled and dismayed when informed that Valcour was once more being sought by the law.

"I don't know what to make of that idiotic little ninny, to tell you the truth," he commented. "I helped him out at times because he seemed to be so friendless—I don't know how he lives, trying to sell his ridiculous paintings. I suppose they're so bad they're good. What has he done now—created another disturbance in public?"

"To be candid " replied Montigny, "he is charged with nothing. We are merely seeking certain information from him."

Coultney, before the mirror of his chiffonier, untied his black bow tie in order to knot it again more neatly. "Information in connection with the Elderbank case" he suggested.

"Perhaps."

"I wish," said Coultney with a laugh, "that while you are on the job you would look into the great Coultney jewel robbery. I have lost my one and only gem—an ancient Egyptian scarab which probably sprang from Hoboken."

"So?" inquired Montigny. "You were not wearing it—you left it around somewhere?"

"I left it around, I think, right here, I always take it off when I wash my hands. Yesterday, I think it was—or perhaps the day before, that was Tuesday, wasn't it?—I left it on the edge of the basin or somewhere in the bathroom. The catch on it is broken—sort of locket arrangement—and I wanted to have it fixed. But now I can't find it anywhere."

"Odd," said Montigny. "I noticed that you were not wearing it Tuesday, when we performed the manicuring formality."

"Wasn't I?" inquired Coultney in surprize. "Why, how did you happen to know that I had such a ring?"

Montigny smiled. "The unsunburned section of your ring finger. You have worn the ring constantly all summer, at the beach and elsewhere, acquiring a splendid coat of tan. But there is no tan where your finger was protected by the broad rings."

Coultney chuckled. "I have been getting a liberal education recently in the cunning methods of investigators. I feel confident, Captain Montigny, that you will recover my ring and bring the culprit to justice."

"A scarab ring, you say it was? Of what dynasty?"

"Oh, I haven't the slightest idea —the only way I can identify it is by my initials engraved inside. I know nothing of scarabs. I supposed this to be a genuine Egyptian scarab. There are hundreds of imitations, I understand."

"Thousands," said Montigny. "A friend of mine in Montreal, an Egyptologist, caused me to become interested in them. The inscriptions upon them frequently name the king or queen in whose ruling years they were carved. A series of very fine ones were engraved in the reign of Amenophis III, in honor of the king and Queen Taia. Have you ever read Griffith on scarabs, Mr. Coultney?"

"I must confess I have not."

"We'd better be getting busy, hadn't we, Captain?" put in Sergeant Darden a bit impatiently.

"Yes—oh, yes, indeed," agreed Montigny. "At once. I hope you shall recover your scarab, Mr. Coultney. It is no small loss. Nothing else is missing?"

"Nothing."

"Then it could scarcely have been stolen. I am afraid you have mislaid it. Good-night."

Darden hurried downstairs ahead of Montigny. "Heck, we haven't got any time to lose," he muttered testily.

They examined all the sealed pictures in Valcour's studio, not bothering, however, to use steam in this investigation. They slit open all the sealings ruthlessly with their pocket knives.

There was nothing whatever to reward their search. There was no picture, indeed, with a deep enough frame to allow space within the back for concealment of anything save possibly a very flat article. The Goldfish Surrounded by Blue, apparently, had been framed for a special purpose.

"After they bumped off Hovarty things got hot for them and they figured they'd better play a cagey game," growled Darden. "They didn't take any chances and the fence didn't take any. Darn it all, we've got to get that bird. And that Jap, too—we ought to be able to trail him if he has skipped to Europe with Schurman. But they haven't gone to Europe, that's a cinch; they wouldn't have broadcast it the way they did, if that had been their plan."

"Perhaps Mr. Schurman felt very safe," observed Montigny. "He had done nothing, mind you, save buy a painting."

"Let's beat it back to headquarters."

As President Delivered Bonus Message To Congress

President Roosevelt is shown as he delivered his veto message on the Patman bonus bill before a joint session of congress. In his unprecedented personal appearance, the chief executive told the lawmakers that the $2,200,000,000 inflationary measure invited "disastrous consequences." Immediately after his departure from the joint session, the house voted to override his veto. Vice President John N. Garner and Speaker Joseph T. Byrns are shown in the background.

America's Millions Pay Tribute to War Dead

Carrying on the tradition established 70 years ago at the close of the Civil war, America pauses to honor her war dead. In the spirit expressed by Abraham Lincoln in his immortal Gettysburg address, citizens throughout United States pay tribute to those who gave "the last full measure of devotion". The tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington at Washington, D. C., is the scene of impressive memorial rites in which high officialdom is taking part.

WHEN MATRON ENTERTAINS—SHE WEARS A DRESS SHE HAS MADE HERSELF

Pattern 2276

The making of this dress will set a new "high" for your personal accomplishments. And the admiring eyes around your tea table will prove additional triumph! The three special charms of the frock are—easy to make—easy to launder—and easy to pack. It will prove a boon on any vacation trip and you'll have a second chance to tell again that you made it. We suggest you choose a sunny pastel cotton for your fabric, or handkerchief linen would make a very feminine choice. And you may or may not carry out our idea of collar, cuffs and front of print. With print, of course, you can achieve some effective color contrast.

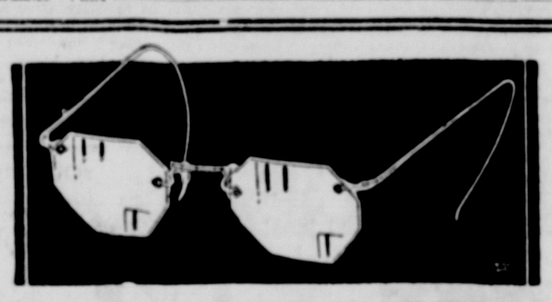

Pattern 2276 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 3 yards 36-inch fabric and 1⅝ yards contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Bulk Buying means economy—

if you have the kind of refrigeration that retains the original moisture and freshness of the extra food supply. You can quickly determine the actual economy of bulk buying right now in your kitchen. Take a head of lettuce and a bunch of celery. Both are rich in natural moisture and important as summer salad materials. Remove them from your present refrigerator and look at the surface first. If a natural moisture balance has been maintained there will be no beads of sweat on the outside. This surface sweat also indicates the absence of proper circulation. Cut the head of lettuce and a stalk of celery in two. If the inside is dry and parched, the nutritive juices and flavor are gone. Moistening under a faucet will not bring them back. It is far better to preserve foods where a constant supply of moisture is circulated 5 to 7 times a minute under refrigerating temperatures that permit cells to function naturally, regulate their own supply of moisture. Thus, are the three essentials of practical food preservation combined in the modern ice cabinet.

1. SAFE TEMPERATURES
2. BALANCED MOISTURE
3. WASHED, VITALIZED AIR

See the smart new models. See what your money will buy in truly modern air conditioned refrigeration. Look into the future too - 10 years from now. Will your refrigerator be a credit to your judgement or a piece of worn out machinery?

Convenient terms can be arranged while you are enjoying truly modern refrigeration.

Plan Americanization of Opera

Edward Johnson Walter Damrosch

Drastic changes in the personnel and policies of the historic Metropolitan Opera company are apparently in store under the regime of its new director, Edward Johnson, Canadian tenor. Greater opportunities are to be given to American singers who are becoming increasingly numerous in the New York company. Six of the new artists signed for next year are Americans. At the same time, such celebrities as Tibbett, Ponselle, Swarthout and Pons have not been re-engaged. Americanization of the opera is also to include presentation of several English versions of standard operas and at least one by an American composer. Walter Damrosch, dean of American conductors, is an ardent advocate of Americanization of opera.

WHEELING, W. Va.—A wedding was scheduled to be performed in the soft coal mining region near here recently. As the minister asked "Will you take this man for your lawful wedded husband?" the girl looked at him and then said, "No I won't, I never saw him before with his face washed. He looks like a stranger and I know I couldn't love him."

Buddy Poppy Sale Is Given Approval Of Chief Executive

"We should all wear Buddy Poppies on Memorial day."

With these words, President Franlin D. Rooseveit concludes his written endorsement of the annual national Buddy Poppy sale conducted under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. President Roosevelt's message displayed a sympathetic understanding of the projects and purposes of the V. F. W. especially in reference to the V. F. W. National Home for veterans' widows and orphans, at Eaton Rapids, Mich. The letter from the White House reads:

"Every orphan deserves a chance for happiness equal to that enjoyed by the average American child. This opportunity is given the orphans of veterans by the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids Michigan, maintained by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

"Proceeds from the annual sale of Buddy Poppies make possible the maintenance of this orphanage. Buddy Poppies also offer a source of employment and relief for needy and disabled veterans in their home communities. For these two very real reasons, we all should wear Buddy Poppies on Memorial day."

"Spy" Comes Home

Richard Roederer, Ohioan, is in New York on his way home, enjoying his first freedom in months. Germans held him in jail nine months as a spy, because he says, jealous rival for girl's hand "framed" him.

PUEBLO, Colo. — Citizens of Pueblo were amused when they saw this sign in front of a local church. It read: "Subject of Sunday evening's sermon, 'Do You Know What Hell Is?' Beneath it in small letters was printed: "Come and hear our organist."

HEADACHES
Are symptoms of disease or trouble in some part of the body. Sometimes the stomach is at fault, sometimes the kidneys, sometimes associated with periodic trouble. They all have a cause. When you deaden that pain you are simply deadening Nature's warning signal that there is trouble along the line.
CHIROPRACTIC
adjustments will remove the cause and permit Nature to do the healing. Others are being relieved of these aches by our adjustments.

PARTY DISHES FOR SUMMER

IT'S HIGH time to begin planning for that party daughter is going to give for her school chums.

A summer party need not be expensive. It is the cheerful company and the surroundings that count. Refreshments may, or should be, simple. A pitcher of punch or a fruit drink, plenty of sandwiches, cookies, cakes, a fruit salad, individual ice box cakes, and there you have all the ingredients for an ideal party.

To make the strawberry cakes, all you need is some vanilla wafers, some crushed sweetened strawberries, and some sweetened whipped cream. Pile four wafers on each plate with a layer of strawberries in between, then tip the whole business with plenty of whipped cream and some more berries on top. Set them in the icebox for a few hours and there you are.

Grand Fruit Punch

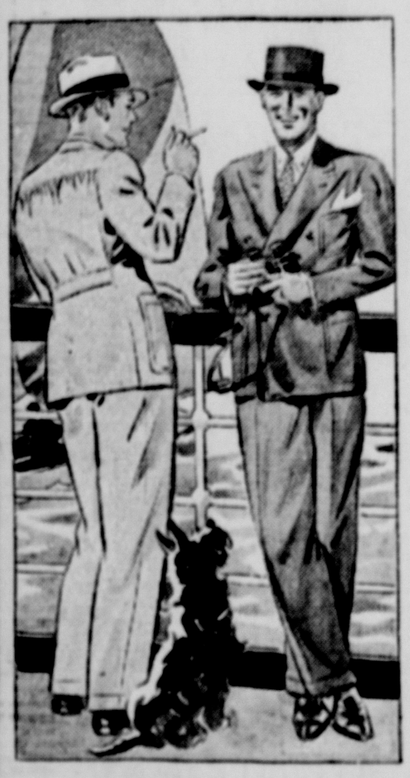

For the potables, here's a grand fruit punch made by the nice father of a charming daughter at the party which she gave for some school chums. Here's the recipe for two quarts of it: Juice of three lemons, juice of two oranges, one quart lime dry charged water, one quart plain water, two tablespoons grenadine liqueur, sugared to taste. Chill with ice cubes and serve very cold. This pretty drink was served with sandwiches, sliced thin rounds of dill pickle, then small, fancy cakes and ice cream. The youngsters voted it the best repast ever.

Bargains are plentiful. The ads. will tell you where.

ANNIVERSARY SALE

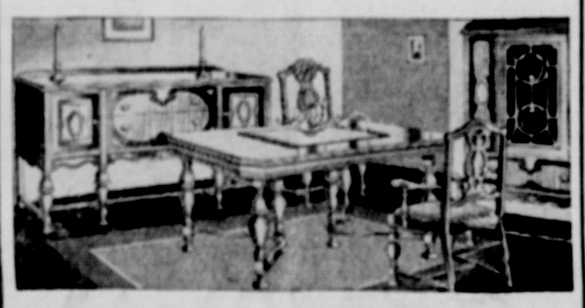

STARTS TOMORROW!

Tomorrow starts the biggest value-giving event of the year, our 14th ANNIVERSARY SALE, which we have been planning for the past several weeks. Just fourteen years ago we purchased the furniture stock from Mr. D. E. Mather of this city and we have served our friends and customers with the best values possible during these years. This business has been conducted here in Salem since 1921 except the short time we operated our business outside this city. This year, in particular, we were fortunate to buy our stocks early and save the rise in prices and, as always has been our policy, we continue to pass these on to you. We urge you to look around your home now and see what you will need, and come to this greatest of all furniture events, our 14TH ANNIVERSARY SALE.

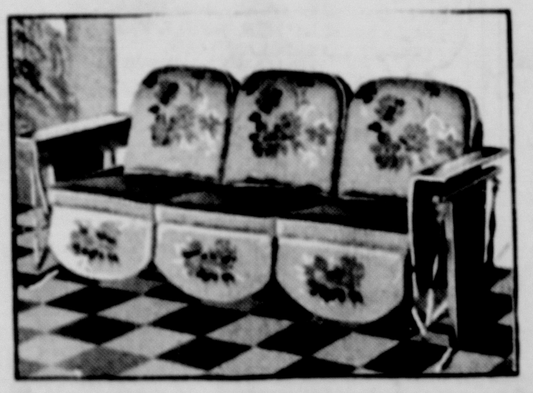

A superb living room suite of surpassing quality and comfort. The exquisitely patterned, high grade rayon velour covering comes in gorgeous rust or green colors. It is a suite for which you'd expect the price to be almost twice this figure.

During Our Anniversary Sale — Only $5.00 Down, $7.00 Monthly $49.00

Now is the time to improve your dining room — re-style it with this beautiful suite in two-tone walnut veneers with maple overlays. The large buffet, extension table and the six chairs with tapestry covered seats are included at the price. The china is extra.

Eight-Piece Suite — During Our Anniversary Sale Terms to Suit $69.50

An advance season presentation, offering you the very newest in glider construction — comfort at its best — at a special pre-season price you won't want to miss.
